

SPRING PUBLICATIONS
AND OTHER RECENT BOOKS
OF PERMANENT INTEREST

1915

Houghton Mifflin Company

4 PARK STREET, BOSTON

16 E. 40TH ST., NEW YORK

“A little library growing larger every year is an honorable part of a man’s history. It is a man’s duty to have books. A library is not a luxury, but one of the necessities of life. Books are the windows through which the soul looks out. A home without books is like a room without windows. No man has a right to bring up his children without surrounding them with books, if he has the means to pay for them.”

— Henry Ward Beecher.

HOUGHTON MIFFLIN COMPANY

1915 Spring Publications 1915

And other Recent Books of Permanent Interest

*The prices here given are subject to change on publication.
The dates show when the books are expected to be ready.
Educational books are marked by a * placed before the title.*

ANGELA'S BUSINESS

A COMEDY OF TEMPORARY SPINSTERS

By Henry Sydnor Harrison

Author of "Queed" and "V.V.'s Eyes"

INTO "Angela's Business" Mr. Harrison has put more of himself — more of his own wise and humorous personality — than into any of his previous books.

Mr. Harrison himself says, "Angela's business might be described as a little comedy of women which in less modern times would undoubtedly have been entitled 'Charles and the Ladies.' From one point of view it is an old-fashioned romance seen from the new-fashioned angle of vision."

THE story tells how Charles King Garrott, good looking and likable, at the age of thirty, has put love behind him — but not women. He has transferred the sex from his heart to his head. Charles has studied women very closely, particularly the interesting Mary Wing, an attractive, forceful girl, who has made her own way and who has ideas about woman's right to live her own life. Then along comes Angela, Mary's cousin, a lovely feminine girl, with soft eyes and a tender voice. She has never heard of the ideas that Charles and Mary are interested in, but she looks on the young philosopher with eyes of worship.

About the time that Charles first meets Angela, society is thrown into a turmoil over the case of Flora Trevenna. Flora has listened to some of the talk in "advanced" circles about woman's freedom, and — terrible to relate — has acted on it!

The return of Flora Trevenna is the turning point in the lives of Charles and Mary and Angela (and of Donald Manford), and in that turning Charles finds himself swept out of the smooth waters of theory into the rapids of experience. In the end, he finds out What Kind of Woman is the Right Kind of Woman.

Illustrated by Frederic R. Gruger. Square crown 8vo, $1.35 net. (March.)

A RELUCTANT ADAM

By Sidney Williams

For the most part fiction of recent years has dealt with the psychology of woman. Here is a study of the psychology of man. It is an original and entertaining tale of a type of man women give much thought and affection to, but seldom understand. His courtesy is mistaken for chivalry and his quiet indifference for gentleness, and while by temperament he is far from being a Don Juan or a lady-killer, one after another five women fall in love with him. The dramatic climax comes, of course, when the hero himself falls in love.

Frontispiece by R. M. Crosby. 12mo, $1.35 net. (February.)

STORIES AND POEMS

AND OTHER UNCOLLECTED WRITINGS

By Bret Harte

Compiled by Charles Meeker Kozlay

"Alive with that rare sense of humor so peculiar to Bret Harte. Many specimens would doubtless have been lost had they not been here collected for preservation." — Literary Digest.

This collection, published last spring in a limited edition, is now included with the regular editions of Harte's complete works.

Riverside Edition, 12mo, $1.50 net. Overland Edition in limp leather, narrow 16mo, $1.50 net.

THREE OF LAST SEASON'S SUCCESSES

THE NIGHTINGALE

By Ellenor Stoothoff

[Mrs. Ferris Greenslet]

"It is a tale bubbling over with fun, a stimulant to jaded spirits." — Portland Press.

"The story has a poetical, fantastic touch that sets it apart as one of the books that are readily enjoyed and remembered with pleasure." — Los Angeles Times.

12mo, $1.25 net.

THE STREET OF SEVEN STARS

By Mary Roberts Rinehart

A love story of two young Americans in Vienna. "Bright, human, and refreshing." — New York Times. "Mrs. Rinehart's finest work." — Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

12mo, $1.25 net.

A KNIGHT ON WHEELS

By Ian Hay

"Full of high spirits and whimsicalities, with just enough serious touches to make it real, and some delightful characters." — New York Times. "One laughs from start to finish." — Presbyterian Banner.

12mo, $1.35 net.

SUNDOWN SLIM

By Henry Herbert Knibbs

With a western background as wild and picturesque as the setting of "Overland Red," this new story is very different in plot and characters and marks a distinct advance in narrative power and popular interest. "Sundown" is a retired hobo employed as cook at the ranch of Concho on the Arizona mesas. The reaction of his cautious amiability to the strenuous pursuits of ranch life are diverting, and Sundown is noted chiefly for providing food for amusement. At once a butt and a favorite, his best friend is Chance, a wolf-dog of mixed ancestry. These two become involved in the affairs of John Corliss, his vagrant brother (a former pal of Sundown), and Eleanor Vale, — and thus furnish the plot for one of the best western stories of the day. Mr. Knibbs has lived with his characters. What he tells about them is true to reality, and his story has the breath of life.

Illustrated by Anton Fischer. 12mo, $1.35 net. (April)

Other Western books by Mr. Knibbs

SONGS OF THE OUTLANDS

"As the writer of 'Overland Red,' Mr. Knibbs comes well recommended. The spirit of the Western plains and mountains, the dash and thrill of border life were in it; and somehow it is no surprise to find the same spirit swinging in measured stanzas and proving the writer a poet as well as a story-teller. It is a good thing to have a volume of new poetry as fresh and clear as this is." — Christian Register.

12mo, $1.25 net.

OVERLAND RED

"A virile and stirring story. Once beginning it, few will lay it aside until the end is reached. It fulfills the first duty of a novel — to be interesting." — New York Times.

"What makes this story noteworthy is the sureness of the author's hand in all his descriptions of life in the Southwest." — San Francisco Chronicle.

Illustrated. Cr. 8vo, $1.35 net.

Good stories from last year

SHIFTING SANDS

By Mrs. Romilly Fedden

"No more winsome unfolding of young and sensitive maidenhood has been accomplished in recent fiction." — New York World.

"A strong, powerfully written romance." — Boston Globe.

12mo, $1.35 net.

HER WINGS

By Frances N. S. Allen

"In the great mass of feminist literature, this story of 'Her Wings' stands out as a very womanly presentation. It is strong, tender, and very human." — Lexington (Ky.) Herald.

12mo, $1.25 net.

THE POET

By Meredith Nicholson

"Not since Henry Harland told us the story of the gentle Cardinal and his snuff-box have we had anything as idyllic as 'The Poet.'" — N.Y. Evening Sun.

Illustrated. $1.30 net.

THE RIGHT TRACK

By Clara Louise Burnham

"A book over which to linger, and after reading to think and talk about. . . . It is own companion to 'The Dawn of Tomorrow.'" — Philadelphia Record.

With frontispiece in color. $1.25 net.

DOODLESBy Emma C. DowdAuthor of "Polly of the Hospital Staff" and "Polly of Lady Gay Cottage"*

"Doodles" will be sure to be known as "the sunshine boy." He is a little lame lad living in a tenement with his mother and brother. Life is not very bright for him, but his own sunny nature enheartens all who come in contact with him. He is passionately fond of music, and through his singing comes to know a young woman, a dancer, who is lying ill in a neighboring room. The incidents which this acquaintance bring into Doodles' life make up the absorbing plot of the story. Through them Doodles becomes the good angel of all with whom he comes in contact.

The many thousands of readers of all ages who found "Polly" a source of inspiration and cheer will welcome "Doodles" even more warmly.

With pictures in color by M. L. Kirk, illustrator of Mrs. Burnett's "The Secret Garden." $1.00 net. (April.)

KATY GAUMERBy Elsie SingmasterAuthor of "Gettysburg," "When Sarah Went to School," etc.*

Though having the same setting and dealing with the same kind of "Pennsylvania Dutch" people that Miss Singmaster has portrayed so successfully in the past, this story differs from her other work in being a full-fledged novel.

Katy Gaumer, who may perhaps be best described as the "Rebecca" of Pennsylvania, is a most enterprising and attractive girl. Her story begins with an exhibition day in the Millerstown school. The governor of the state, a former resident of the town, is to be present, and in his honor the children have been painfully drilled in exact English speech, so that he shall see what progress the town has made. He is called on, however, to address the school and the people at the very opening, and throws all their plans into confusion by speaking in their own homely "Pennsylvania Dutch." The older people are aghast, but quick-witted Katy saves the day by discarding her carefully prepared English piece, reciting one in the local vernacular, and making the other children follow her lead. Throughout the story she is the dominant figure, and in the end she is won by a persistent wooer who is no less quaintly attractive than the heroine herself.

Illustrated. 12mo, $1.35 net. (February.)

TWO STRIKING NOVELS WHICH APPEARED LAST YEAR

THE CLARIONBy Samuel Hopkins Adams

"One of the most interestingly stirring stories of modern life yet published. . . . Vividly told and of burning interest." — Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Illustrated. 12mo, $1.35 net.

THE WITCHBy Mary Johnston

"Miss Johnston has a rich imaginative comprehension of times past, and the best of her strength in that direction has been brought to bear here." — Springfield Republican.

With frontispiece. Crown 8vo, $1.40 net.

DR. ELIOT—FRITZ KREISLER—EMILE VERHAEREN

THREE of the most distinctive and unique of all the books evoked by the war are those by the three men whose names appear above.

Dr. Eliot, President Emeritus of Harvard University, has taken during late years an even more active part in public affairs than was possible when he was occupied with his duties as an educator. In interviews and in articles written for newspapers and magazines, Dr. Eliot has expressed his opinion of the present situation and his theories regarding the best way to prevent the recurrence of another such calamity. These opinions and constructive ideas are to be gathered together into a book to be entitled THE ROAD TO PEACE. Every citizen concerned in the preservation of our own national integrity and the conservation of humanity will want this book.

SIX WEEKS IN THE TRENCHES is the account of the war experiences of Fritz Kreisler, the greatest of living violinists. As an officer in the Austrian army, Mr. Kreisler saw active service and will carry always the effects of a severe lance wound inflicted by a Cossack. His book, however, is more than a story of fighting. At once a patriot and a pacifist, his war experience made a profound impression upon him. When some one who had listened to him talking informally on the subject suggested that he write down his impressions in a book, Mr. Kreisler, agreeing, was influenced by two desires. He wished to express the feeling of the artist, to whom the nationality of a brother artist is a thing of little moment, and to show, especially to Americans, the true character of the Austrian people, his own countrymen. Mr. Kreisler is beyond doubt the greatest artist who has been actively concerned in the war. Nothing else that has been or will be written on the subject can give quite the same point of view, while aside from its philosophical significance the book will stand also as one of the most dramatic accounts ever written of actual trench fighting.

Lastly, there is Emile Verhaeren, the Belgian poet, whose book THE BELGIAN SPIRIT expresses, as its title implies, the spirit of his countrymen in the face of invasion. Too old for military service, M. Verhaeren is working, part of the time in Belgium and part in England, for his stricken countrymen; but perhaps no service, civil or military, which he could render them, will surpass this glowing, imperishable record of their courage and gallantry.

THE WAR AND BUSINESS

Mr. C. W. Barron, proprietor and editor of the Boston News Bureau, spent November and December making a visit of personal observation in England, France, and Germany, where he studied conditions with special relation to the effect of the war on business. His trained observation, his knowledge of men and affairs, and his gift of vivid expression make his forthcoming book, THIS AUDACIOUS WAR, well worth careful attention.

No exact date can be given now for the appearance of these books, but they will be published some time this Spring. As soon as possible more definite information will be given.

ARE WE READY?

By H. D. Wheeler

With an Introductory Letter by Major-General Leonard Wood

In the increasing literature in regard to American preparedness for war, this book is sure to take a leading and authoritative position. The author, who is Managing Editor of Harper's Weekly, has long made a special study of the subject, in which he has been aided at every point by the military authorities, including Major-General Leonard Wood, who contributes an important introduction.

Beginning with an absorbing narrative of an imaginary "attack on New York," the author shows the present acute situation in the regular army, the militia, and the navy. Then in successive chapters he deals with "the hole in our pocket," i. e., our traditional military policy, what it contemplates and how it has been applied; with "the militia," its history, function, organization, equipment, and its one great weakness; with the "great international bugaboo," i. e., militarism vs. democracy, in the course of which he makes illuminating comparisons of the military situation in the United States with that in Switzerland and in Australia; and concludes with two very important constructive chapters, in which he proposes certain concrete administrative and legislative reforms looking towards the formation of a citizen army.

24 full-page illustrations. Small crown 8vo, $1.50 net.

THE DIPLOMACY OF THE WAR OF 1914

THE BEGINNING OF THE WAR

By Ellery C. Stowell

There have been many hasty studies of the diplomatic causes of the War of 1914, but this, the first of three books that will present the diplomacy of the war from its inception until the final settlement, when that shall be arrived at, should take its place as the most complete, authoritative, impartial study of the diplomatic negotiations preceding the outbreak of war.

After tracing the events leading up to the formation of the Triple Alliance and the Triple Entente, the author bases the succeeding chapters upon a comparative analysis of selected portions of the official documents published by the respective governments. The plan adopted has made it possible to arrange the events in their logical sequence and show the fundamental relations of the powers, and to preserve always the thread of exceedingly complicated negotiations. The examination of the negotiations culminates in a discussion of the violation of Belgian neutrality, which is studied in its legal as well as political and ethical aspects. The volume concludes with a searching analysis of Germany's case and England's case, and a study of the interest of the United States in the war, presenting some very important general considerations in regard to the future.

The author, who is professor of International Law in Columbia University, is one of the best equipped of American specialists in this subject. After graduating from Harvard University in 1898, he traveled in the Orient and in Europe, studied in the Universities of Berlin and Paris, graduated from the Diplomatic Section of the Ecole Libre des Sciences Politiques of Paris. He was a secretary of the Second Peace Conference at The Hague in 1907, as well as secretary of the delegation of Panama to the same conference, and was secretary of the American delegation at the Naval Conference in London in 1908. For his services in his chosen field, he has been decorated by the governments of both Holland and Russia.

KITCHENER: Organizer of Victory

By Harold Begbie

There is probably in the world to-day no man more appealing to the imagination of English-speaking peoples than Kitchener of Khartoum, the silent, strong man who is organizing the British hosts for the final clash of arms in the great Continental war.

Of few men who have achieved anything like so brilliant a career has so little personal detail been known. This brief biography and character sketch is the first satisfactory account of Kitchener's life. Mr. Begbie has had access to special sources of information, and tells with authority and with picturesque detail the story of Kitchener's birth and boyhood, his first service in the English army, his fighting in the armies of France during the Franco-Prussian war, his services in Egypt and in South Africa. There is also a special chapter on Kitchener's battles, contributed by a military expert.

Mr. Begbie himself is a novelist of brilliancy and power. Considered merely as a character study of a unique personality, the book would be of pronounced interest at any time, but concerning, as it does, one of the great figures of the present war, it is bound to command the widest attention.

Fully illustrated. $1.25 net. (February.)

THE ELEMENTS OF MILITARY HYGIENE

New and Revised Edition

By Major P. M. Ashburn

This hand-book, which has been an authority for five years, has now been revised and brought up to date. Major Ashburn has been in active service both in the Philippines and in Panama, and by research and experience has become familiar with the new diseases to which our troops may be exposed and with the latest methods of cure and prevention.

12mo, $1.50 net. (March.)

THE LAW AND USAGE OF WAR

By Sir Thomas Barclay

A practical hand-book of the law and practice of war and prizes, written by the best-known British authority on international law in its relation to war. The paragraphs on neutrality will be especially useful to Americans, both lawyers and laymen. The Appendix gives the Declaration of Paris and the full text of all important Hague conventions.

12mo, $1.50 net.

PAN-GERMANISM

By Roland G. Usher

Fifteenth impression

"A notable survey of the European situation, scientifically thorough, brilliantly presented . . . masterly." — Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Large crown 8vo, $1.75 net.

WAR'S AFTERMATH

By David Starr Jordan and
Harvey Ernest Jordan

"After reading it one obtains a new realization of the price that the world must pay for the calamity which has come in this terrible year of destruction."

— Charleston News and Courier.

12mo, 75 cents net.

THIRTY YEARS

By Sir Thomas Barclay

"The history of the Entente Cordiale is one of the most remarkable episodes in international relations. . . . The book is a valuable record enriched by many stories and sketches." — The Bookman.

With frontispiece. 8vo, $3.50 net.

THE RIVERSIDE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

Vol. I. BEGINNINGS OF AMERICAN LIFE. By Carl Becker

Vol. II. UNION AND DEMOCRACY. By Allen Johnson

Vol. III. EXPANSION AND CONFLICT. By W. E. Dodd

Vol. IV. THE NEW NATION. By F. L. Paxson

Professor Becker, of the University of Kansas, considers our original colonies as expansions of Western Europe, as a sort of European frontier, and the Revolution, not as a simple struggle between colonies and mother country, but as a movement, complex in character and world-wide in its bearings. ¶ Professor Allen Johnson, of Yale, introduces the new forces, the demand for expansion toward the Mississippi. The volume covers the second war with England, and traces the growth of American nationality up to the inauguration of President Jackson. ¶ Professor Dodd, of the University of Chicago, carries the history through the Jackson régime, the Mexican War, and the Civil War. The Civil War is considered in its social, economic, and political, as well as its military, aspects. ¶ Finally, Professor Paxson, of the University of Wisconsin, offers a fresh and stimulating narrative of the industrial changes incident to the Civil War and the Reconstruction Period.

4 vols. Limp leather. Each $1.75 net. The set, $6.00 net. (March.)

 INTERVENTION AND COLONIZATION IN AFRICA

By N. Dwight Harris

An accurate account of the activities of the chief European powers in Africa since 1870, tracing the causes and results of the new movement for territory, and political and economic control. Special attention is given to the recent colonial activities of Great Britain, France, Germany, and Italy. The founding of the German colonies in East and Southwest Africa is explained in detail and the German methods are compared with those of England and France. Also there are excellent descriptions of the creation of the Congo Free State, the "Congo atrocities," and the reforms introduced there with the establishment of the Belgian Congo administration.

$2.00 net.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S SPEECHES

Edited by Charles W. Boyd

These speeches cover practically the entire political career of Joseph Chamberlain. They make both interesting and very instructive reading and constitute an important historical document for the study of recent English history, covering a very wide range of interest as well as of time, and dealing with both imperial and domestic policies and economic conditions.

2 vols. 8vo, $5.00 net. (January.)

THE FRENCH REVOLUTION IN SAN DOMINGO

By T. Lothrop Stoddard

"A convenient and available source of information on a subject about which relatively little of authoritative quality has been written." — Washington Star.

Crown 8vo. $2.00 net.

A HANDBOOK OF UNIVERSAL HISTORY

By Carl Ploetz

All history condensed into a single handy volume. This revised edition has been brought to date to cover the first five months of the present war.

With index. Cr. 8vo, $3.00 net.

THE HISTORY OF PRUSSIA

By Herbert Tuttle

This history is not new, but we insert it because it is dependable, readable, and timely. The subjects of the four volumes are as follows: —

I. To the Accession of Frederic the Great (1134-1740), $2.25.

II. Under Frederic the Great (1740-45), $2.25.

III. Under Frederic the Great (1745-56), $2.25.

IV. Under Frederic the Great (1756-57), with a Biographical Sketch of the Author by Professor HERBERT B. ADAMS, $1.50.

With maps, etc. 4 vols., cr. 8vo, $8.25 net.

THE DIVINE MYSTERY

A Reading of the History of Christianity down to the Time of Christ

By Allen Upward

"The Divine Mystery" follows in order after "The New Word," the book by which Mr. Upward is best known in this country. As the sub-title indicates, the book is a study of the Christian elements in the pre-Christian religions. The author, who is an ethnological and archæological scholar of great learning, collects into one imaginative synthesis all the distinctly Christian elements in the history and mythology of the races of the world prior to the time of Christ. The book is very ably written and suggestive, and it is conceived in a spirit which is likely to offend no one.

(March.)

CRITICISMS OF LIFE

Studies in Faith, Hope and Despair

By Horace J. Bridges

The stimulating modernness of these studies is indicated by the personalities the author has chosen for his subjects. The headings are as follows:—

Francis Thompson's "Hound of Heaven": A Study in Religious Experience.

Mr. G. K. Chesterton as Theologian.

Prof. Ernest Haeckel's New Calvinism.

Sir Oliver Lodge and the Evidence for Immortality.

Mr. Winston Churchill and Clerical "Heresy."

Ellen Key and the "New Morality" of Free Love.

The Right to Die: Maeterlinck and Ingersoll versus Humanity.

The Victorious Death of Captain Scott.

Epilogue: In the Times of War and Tumults.

In the epilogue the author appraises current morality by the light of the world-wide conflict, and throws responsibility for the catastrophe, not on nations, but on the economic and social structure of human society.

12mo, $1.50 net. (February.)

THE HIGHER INDIVIDUALISM

By Edward Scribner Ames

As an expression of certain fundamental ideas characteristic of the constructive tendency in current religious thinking, Professor Ames's new book, "The Higher Individualism," will be of much interest to the increasing number of people who are beginning to reflect seriously on these matters. Among the ideas enlarged upon which will be of special timeliness are the social nature of the individual and the value of social service; the naturalness of the central religious experiences, such as regeneration, inspiration, and the mystical moods; the charm of the nearer view of Jesus; and the world-old quest for a more abundant and a more ideal life.

12mo, $1.10 net. (February.)

THE EARLY CHURCH

From Ignatius to Augustine

By George Hodges

This book had its origin in a course of Lowell Institute lectures, which were given without manuscript. The chapter titles will show the scope of the book: The Roman World; The Struggle for Life (Persecution and Martyrdom); The Defence of the Faith (against prejudice, heresy, and rivalry); The Organization of Religion; The Arian Debate; Monasticism in the East (Basil and Gregory); Ambrose; Chrysostom; Monasticism in the West (Martin of Tours, Cassian, and Jerome); Augustine. The author has added a very useful Table of Dates, covering the Roman Emperors of the period, Heretics and Schismatics, Church Fathers, Persecutions, and the advance of the Barbarians.

Crown 8vo, $1.75 net. (February.)

Our purpose in this series is to print a selection of the most promising contemporary verse in attractive and inexpensive form. The text will be printed on a fine quality of book paper, with wide margins and pleasing type, and the covers will be of heavy paper, dignified by an appropriate design. The initial publication will be the group of volumes that follow.

WAR POEMS

By Josephine Preston Peabody

(Mrs. Lionel Marks)

Perhaps it is enough to say of this volume that the thousands of admirers of Mrs. Marks's poetry and poetic dramas will find here all the noble and moving qualities they have learned to associate with her name.

50 cents net. (April.)

THE WINNOWING FAN

POEMS ON THE GREAT WAR

By Lawrence Binyon

In these poems Mr. Binyon, already favorably known in this country as a poet and critic, rises to a greatness of soul, a high, restrained dignity, befitting his theme. Unlike most verse that has been called forth by the war, these are poems not for an occasion but for all time.

50 cents net.

IRRADIATIONS: SAND AND SPRAY

By John Gould Fletcher

We have no hesitation in calling this one of the most significant and satisfying volumes of vers libre that has been produced by the younger school of poets. Singularly perfect throughout, both in thought and expression, the poems rise at times to a height of magic beauty that can scarcely be paralleled in recent verse. We confidently recommend this volume to all readers who doubt the adequacy of the new verse forms.

75 cents net. (April.)

SOME IMAGISTE POETS

AN ANTHOLOGY

Abrupt, insurgent, provocative, the poetry of the "Imagiste" group is irradiated by a spirit as fresh and bracing as a winter's day. Sacrificing rhyme and metre to sheer expressiveness, they have sounded the most vital note in contemporary verse. The thirty-eight poems of this volume represent the best work during 1914 of Richard Aldington, "H. D.," John Gould Fletcher, F. S. Flint, Ford Maddox Hueffer, D. H. Lawrence, and Amy Lowell, and form an anthology that no poetry lover can afford to ignore.

75 cents net.

JAPANESE LYRICS

Translated by Lafcadio Hearn

Every reader of Hearn will remember the brief, jewel-like translations of Japanese lyrics that are scattered through his work. These translations, with the Japanese originals, have been gathered together into a volume of striking and exotic beauty. While these lyrics are not the work of contemporary poets, their impressionism is akin to that of the Imagistes and their inclusion gives perspective and balance to the series.

75 cents net.

THE CALIFORNIA PADRES AND THEIR MISSIONS

By J. Smeaton Chase and Charles Francis Saunders

The Franciscan Missions of California have often been described, but this brilliant new book presents the subject in a fresh and unique way. Each of the missions has a chapter specially devoted to it, which gives the most interesting historical facts, woven into a picturesque personal narrative of a visit thereto, and embodies also numerous suggestions for the tourist. Following this, and forming a second section of the several chapters, is a story portraying some feature of Mission life or history, preserving in literary form the rich historic atmosphere of the place.

The book will be fully illustrated from photographs and artists' drawings, and will have a colored frontispiece. Coming, as it does, this spring, when Europe is practically closed to American travelers and the great attraction is the Panama Exposition, it promises to be one of the season's most important books.

Illustrated. $2.50 net. (March.)

UNPUBLISHED PROSE AND LETTERS

BY THE LATE

JOHN MUIR

Among the manuscript material left by Mr. Muir are a number of interesting and characteristic letters, and a practically completed work on Alaska. This material will be arranged and brought out as soon as possible. A more definite announcement will be made later.

The first part of Mr. Muir's autobiography

THE STORY OF MY BOYHOOD AND YOUTH

"Genuine, unpretentious, homely, and convincing." — The Dial.

Illustrated. Large crown 8vo, $2.00 net.

Two California books by Mr. Muir

MY FIRST SUMMER IN THE SIERRA

Illustrated from photographs by H. W. Gleason and from sketches by the author. Large crown 8vo, $2.50 net.

OUR NATIONAL PARKS

Illustrated. Crown 8vo, $1.75 net. With 32 views and maps, and an appendix. Crown 8vo, $3.00 net.

California described by Mary Austin

THE FLOCK

"Not only an idyll of the shepherd's life and work in California, but one of the most fascinating of 'out-of-door' books." — Travel Magazine.

Illustrated. $2.00 net.

THE LAND OF LITTLE RAIN

"A classic of California, a study of nature in her least-known moods." — San Francisco Bulletin.

Illustrated. $2.00 net.

Other Books by J. Smeaton Chase

CALIFORNIA COAST TRAILS

"Mr. Chase is a clever writer, for he takes you into his confidence and imparts all the little incidents of the road that make the story of a journey so attractive." — San Francisco Chronicle.

Illustrated. Large crown 8vo, $2.00 net.

YOSEMITE TRAILS

"This book will bring to public notice in a very attractive way a region that will surely some day become the superb playground of America." — The Churchman.

Illustrated. Large crown 8vo, $2.00 net.

THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN WONDERLAND

By Enos A. Mills

The "more exciting scenery in books," advocated by Ellis Parker Butler, has been achieved in earnest by Enos A. Mills. Wild winds, frowning precipices, roaring torrents, irresistible glaciers with yawning crevasses, — all play their parts in Mr. Mills's new book, yet the impression is equally strong of a wonderland of lofty mountains, natural parks, gemlike lakes, alpine flower-gardens, and streams full of trout. The book contains a deal of original observation on the habits of the Rocky Mountain forests and the ways of the wild folk that roam through them.

24 Illustrations. Square crown 8vo, $1.75 net. (March)

Other books by Mr. Mills

THE SPELL OF THE ROCKIES

"To read this book is to know the spirit of deep forests, to be initiated into much secret lore of mountain, meadow and wood." — Louisville Courier.

Illustrated. Square cr. 8vo, $1.75 net.

WILD LIFE ON THE ROCKIES

"It gives a clearer idea of the Rockies, their trees, flowers, plant life, birds, and beasts than may be gleaned from any other volume of its kind." — Lincoln (Neb.) Star.

Illustrated. Square cr. 8vo, $1.75 net.

THE STORY OF A THOUSAND YEAR PINE

In this interesting little story (reprinted from "Wild Life on the Rockies") Mr. Mills tells of a gigantic yellow pine tree which he estimates to have started about the year 856.

Bound in half leather. Illustrated. 75 cents net.

A NEW BOOK BY JOHN BURROUGHS

THE BREATH OF LIFE

This new volume presents Mr. Burroughs's ripest thought on many important problems of evolution and human life. The table of contents includes such suggestive titles as "The Journeying Atoms," "Life and Chance," "The Primal Mind," and "Scientific Faith Again."

Riverside Edition, 12mo, $1.50 net. 16mo, $1.15 net. (April.)

WHERE ROLLS THE OREGON

By Dallas Lore Sharp

"Here at last is a first-class, modern book about our Oregon, a book that honors its subject." — The Oregonian. "Entertainment and genuine value." — The Outlook.

Illustrated. Crown 8vo, $1.25 net.

FIELD DAYS IN CALIFORNIA

By Bradford Torrey

"Mr. Torrey loved birds, beasts, flowers, green fields, the sea, and the mountains, and there are charming references to all of them in his book." — New York Times.

Illustrated. $1.50 net.

WHAT SHALL WE READ TO THE CHILDREN ?

By Clara W. Hunt

This is a wise, helpful book of advice to parents and teachers as to what and how to read to children before they are able to read to themselves. One by one the author takes up the various branches of reading, — poetry, nature books, fairy tales, Bible stories, true stories, travel stories, picture books, etc., — and there is an excellent chapter on buying the nursery library.

Miss Hunt is the head of the children's department in the Brooklyn Public Library, and one of the best-known authorities in the country in this important field.

12mo, $1.00 net.

THE LAND OF DELIGHT

By Josephine Scribner Gates

"The Land of Delight" is surely the one title for this charming story of children on a pony farm. Ponies grazing, ponies galloping, ponies kicking up their heels and tossing their shaggy Shetland manes, brown ponies, gray ponies, dappled ponies, ponies harnessed to little phaetons, ponies saddled ready for small riders to tear about the grassy field to their hearts' content, ponies to pet, to feed with apples and lumps of loaf sugar, — what could childish heart desire beyond this? The adventures are made most real and convincing by a really remarkable series of pictures taken from life on a "truly" pony farm.

Illustrated. Square 12mo, $1.00 net. (March.)

LITTLE BIRD BLUE

By William Lowell Finley and Irene Finley

This is the story of a delightful friendship between an orphaned young bluebird and the boy and girl who brought him up by hand. The pictures are from drawings by Bruce Horsfall and some particularly charming photographs by Mr. Finley, who has an international reputation as a photographer of birds.

Illustrated. 75 cents net. (March.)

THE WHOLE YEAR ROUND

By Dallas Lore Sharp

This is a one-volume edition of Mr. Sharp's books on the seasons, — "The Spring of the Year," "Summer," "The Fall of the Year," and "Winter." It is believed that many readers, old as well as young, will be glad to have the story of "the whole year round" in this convenient form and with the excellent pictures by Bruce Horsfall.

Illustrated. 8vo, $2.00 net. (February.)

CHILDREN'S BOOK OF BIRDS

By Olive Thorne Miller

In this "The First Book of Birds" and "The Second Book of Birds" are combined in one volume. The first part tells of the habits and education of baby birds; the second part tells of particular birds, the families they belong to, and the different ways in which they live.

Illustrated in color and in black and white. (In preparation.)

BUDDHIST ART IN ITS RELATION TO BUDDHIST DOCTRINE

With Special Reference to Buddhism in Japan

By M. Anesaki

This beautiful book, written by one of the foremost Japanese scholars, now lecturing in this country, is an exposition of the relation of Buddhist art and the Buddhist religion that will have an uncommon charm for the growing public interested in both of these subjects.

Professor Anesaki is a brilliant and persuasive writer, having at times not a little of the imaginative flavor of such writers as Lafcadio Hearn. The book, which is published in connection with the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, will contain more than fifty illustrations of old Japanese prints, Buddhist architecture, sculpture and painting, with full and vivid notes. (March.)

THE PRINT-COLLECTOR'S QUARTERLY

Edited by FitzRoy Carrington

Curator of Prints at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, and Lecturer on the History and Principles of Engraving at Harvard University.

The plans for 1915 include, among others, the following articles: "Van Dyck: His Original Etchings and His Iconography," by Arthur M. Hind of the British Museum; "German Woodcuts of the Fifteenth Century," by Emil H. Richter; "John La Farge as an Illustrator," by Frank Weitenkampf; and "Gavarni," by Robert J. Wickenden. Each number contains about forty full-page illustrations and one hundred pages of text. $2.00 a year. Single numbers, 50 cents.

PRINTS

A Brief Review of their Technique and History

By Emil H. Richter

"This practical little book fills a long-felt want for a plain, short explanation of 'prints.' The work is beautifully printed and illustrated, with sixty-nine full-page reproductions of famous prints." — American Art News.

Illustrated. Large crown 8vo, $2.00 net.

THE ARCHITECTURE of HUMANISM

By Geoffrey Scott

"A book full of charming passages and reasonable criticism. Every prospective visitor to Italy should take its teachings to heart." — Boston Transcript.

Crown 8vo, $2.00 net.

THE ART of SPIRITUAL HARMONY

By Wassily Kandinsky

"An illuminating, frankly investigatory analysis of the fundamental appeals of form and color (irrespective of their representational employment)." — Life.

Illustrated. $1.75 net.

MONT ST. MICHEL AND CHARTRES

By Henry Adams

"Not only are the subjects chosen full of interest, but the harmony of the work as a whole and the style of the narrative is enchanting." — Baltimore Sun.

Illustrated. Royal 8vo, $6.00 net.

THE MINISTRY OF ART

By Ralph Adams Cram

"These essays, like everything that Mr. Cram writes, are provocative of the quality most needed to-day — artistic perceptiveness." — Providence Journal.

Narrow crown 8vo, $1.50 net.

THE GREATEST OF LITERARY PROBLEMS

A Study and Review, Historical and Critical

By James Phinney Baxter

This work meets a long-felt need for a complete presentation of the Bacon-Shakespeare question, and will prove as useful to students of Shakespeare as of Bacon, since it presents an exhaustive review of Shakespearean authors from Rowe to Lee, as well as a bibliography covering all printed works upon the subject in English, French, German, Spanish, Scandinavian, Italian, and Russian, articles in periodical literature, and a wealth of illustrations of great value to students, collectors, and libraries. The author, well known as a historian, has devoted the last thirty years of his life to travel and a special study of European history, literature, and art of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, and this work is interesting evidence of his patient research.

The volume will be lavishly illustrated with portraits, fac-similes, and title-pages.

Illustrated. 8vo, $5.00 net. (March.)

* THE TECHNIQUE OF THE DRAMA

By George P. Baker

This book is founded on the teaching of Professor Baker in the class-rooms of Harvard and Radcliffe and in his laboratory theatre, "the 47 Workshop." It is intended for those who wish to write plays and for all who are interested in dramatic writing. Actual difficulties of past and present students have guided the author in his presentation of principles and methods, and while most of the illustrations are drawn from English plays of recent years, students' manuscripts and well-known plays of all periods have been used.

12mo, $2.00 net. (In preparation.)

* THE CHIEF CONTEMPORARY DRAMATISTS

By Thomas H. Dickenson

"The Chief Contemporary Dramatists" is a work of constructive criticism, presenting in one volume those plays, apart from the works of Ibsen, which may be considered landmarks in the field of drama for the era of change since the middle of the nineteenth century. It contains one play from each of the following playwrights: Pinero, Jones, Galsworthy, Barker, Wilde, Synge, Yeats, Thomas, Moody, Fitch, MacKaye, Brieux, Hervieu, Maeterlinck, Strindberg, Björnson, and Hauptmann. The critical material comprises complete lists of plays, with dates of performance and printing, the facts of the life of each author, particular facts relative to the history of the play represented in the book, and bibliography of useful books on the writers represented.

(February.)

THE BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

By M. A. DeWolfe Howe

"Thoroughly as Mr. Howe has done his work of compilation, he has not merely laid the dry bones of fact in orderly succession side by side. Instead, he has hidden them in the flesh and blood of a lucid, flowing, animated, and even graphic narrative. He has kept 'the founder and sustainer,' the leaders, the personnel, and even the reviewers, human figures in the human, as well as the æsthetic, life of Boston."

— Boston Transcript.

8 Illustrations. Tall cr. 8vo, $2.00 net. Also a limited edition of 500 copies, more fully illustrated. $10.00 net.

PARADISE FOUND

By Allen Upward

This unique book, at once wise and diverting, is a critical extravaganza in dialogue form which is essentially a very searching criticism of Bernard Shaw and his ideas. Shaw, through enchantment, is cast into a trance, and in that form is preserved by his followers as a sacred relic for two hundred years. He is awakened into a world administered entirely on Shavian principles. His disgust with the practical operation of his ideas is developed with rich humor, but while the reader reads with uproarious laughter he finds when he is through that the Shavian philosophy has received a very searching and, at many points, a very destructive criticism.

REPRESENTATIVE PHI BETA KAPPA ADDRESSES

Edited by Clark S. Northup

It is somewhat surprising that this is the first collection that has been made of representative orations which have included some of the finest specimens of American eloquence. The orations cover a period from 1830 down to the present time, and include such interesting subjects, treated by such well-known men, as the following: Academic Freedom, by Charles William Eliot; The American Scholar, by Ralph Waldo Emerson; Things Human, by Benjamin Ide Wheeler; and Evolution vs. Revolution in Politics, by Andrew D. White.

$3.00 net. (March.)

IMPRESSIONS AND COMMENTS

By Havelock Ellis

"Fugitive thoughts on literature and life by one of the most remarkable men of our time." — The Independent.

"Little essays with the finish of Pater and the whimsicality of Stevenson." — Chicago Tribune.

8vo, $1.50 net.

BYWAYS IN BOOKLAND

By Walter A. Mursell

"It is a running comment on books of all kinds, some familiar, others unfamiliar, but all enriching life and imagination." — Congregationalist and Christian World.

12mo, $1.25 net

THE JOYFUL HEART

By Robert Haven Schauffler

"A book which can be comfortably carried in the pocket, and probably will be carried there by many persons." — Indianapolis News.

"Develops with insight and grace the gospel of happiness." — The Standard.

Narrow 12mo, $1.25 net.

THE LIFE OF A LITTLE COLLEGE

By Archibald MacMechan

"Dr. MacMechan's book stands out invariably for the purity and beauty of the English in which it is written; its simplicity and urbanity is a joy." — The Churchman.

12mo, $1.35 net.

MEDITATIONS ON VOTES FOR WOMEN

By Samuel McChord Crothers

"It is a delightful experience to find discussion about political equality and democratic suffrage put into such a form that one may read it for pure pleasure of the reading, no matter on which side his convictions and sympathies rest." — The Christian Register.

12mo, $1.00 net.

[The books on this page were published in the winter]

THE GRAND TOUR IN THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY

By William E. Mead

"Mr. Mead does not obtrude his scholarship. He merely uses it and amiably humanizes it with a delightful enjoyment of gossip, not a little quiet humor, and an excellent literary style." — Chicago Tribune.

Illustrated. 8vo, $4.00 net. Limited edition of 300 copies. Demi 8vo, $10.00 net.

HANS BREITMANN'S BALLADS

By Charles Godfrey Leland

Introduction by Elizabeth Robins Pennell

"This edition is very complete; it contains all the known Breitmann matter; its typographical dress is beautiful and would have made the author's heart rejoice." — The New York Sun.

Limited edition of 350 copies. 8vo, $7.50 net.

FANTASTICS AND OTHER FANCIES

By Lafcadio Hearn

A collection of characteristic periodical work which has been lost for many years. Now brought to light through the research of Dr. Charles W. Hutson, it is published in a special edition uniform with "Leaves from the Diary of an Impressionist."

Limited edition of 550 copies. $5.00 net.

A WALLOON FAMILY IN AMERICA

WITH THE JOURNAL OF JESSE DE FOREST AND HIS COLONISTS

By Mrs. Robert W. de Forest

"So engagingly has the author made the narrative reflect the social and industrial life of each generation with which it deals that the book becomes of much more interest and value than as the mere story of the vicissitudes of a family." — New York Times.

Illustrated. 500 copies for sale. 2 vols. $5.00 net.

STIEGEL GLASS

By Frederick W. Hunter, A. M.

"Of imposing format, and with a wealth of illustrations, colored as well as black and white, the book is one of which author and printer may well be proud; but better even than all this are Mr. Hunter's competent handling of his facts, and his always delightful attitude toward his man and the many traditions enveloping the pursuit, literary and material, of Stiegel Glass." — Bulletin of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Limited edition of 420 copies. Illustrated. $10.00 net.

WALKING

By Henry David Thoreau

"One of the classics in its kind." — The Dial. "Thoreau at his best." — Chicago Post.

Limited edition of 550 copies. Narrow 16mo, $2.50 net.

THE RIVERSIDE POCKET EDITIONS

The prompt response to this new edition, first issued about a year ago, has been most gratifying and has confirmed our judgment as to the need of just such volumes. The clear type, handsome, durable leather bindings, and convenient size [16mo] make the books equally desirable for the library shelf or for the pocket or traveling bag.

READY THIS SPRING

THE WORKS OF HENRY D. THOREAU

In this edition, Thoreau's works, exclusive of his journals and letters, are for the first time printed in small compact form. The text is the authoritative, copyright text. The photogravure frontispieces are from photographs of Thoreau's haunts by Mr. Herbert W. Gleason, except one, which is a portrait from the rarer of the two published Maxham daguerreotypes, and has never before appeared in connection with his works.

With photogravure frontispieces. 11 vols. Each $1.50 net.

THE RIVERSIDE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES. "The Beginnings of American History," by Carl L. Becker; "Union and Democracy," by Allen Johnson; "Expansion and Conflict," by William E. Dodd; "The New Nation," by Frederick L. Paxson.

In 4 vols. Each $1.75 net. The set, $6.00 net. [For full description, see page 8.]

RIVERSIDE POCKET EDITIONS ALREADY ISSUED

TENNYSON

7 vols. The set, $10.00 net.

BROWNING

6 vols. The set, $10.00 net.

SHAKESPEARE.

Edited by Richard Grant White. 6 vols. The set, $10.00 net.

EMERSON

Biographical Sketch and Notes by Edward Waldo Emerson. 12 vols. $1.75 net per volume. The set, $21.00 net.

BRET HARTE

With photogravure frontispieces. In 19 vols. Each $1.50 net. The set, $28.50 net.

HAWTHORNE

With photogravure frontispieces. In 22 vols. Each $1.25 net. The set, $27.50 net.

SINGLE VOLUME POCKET EDITIONS

Two Books by Henry James. Illustrated by Joseph Pennell

ENGLISH HOURS

Each narrow 16mo. Limp leather, boxed, $1.75 net.

A LITTLE TOUR IN FRANCE

CRANFORD

By Mrs. Gaskell

Narrow 16mo. Limp leather, boxed, $1.25 net.

THE IDEAL ITALIAN TOUR

By Henry James Forman

Narrow 16mo. Limp leather, boxed, $1.75 net.

THE VISITORS' EDITIONS

These editions have come to be recognized as the best possible souvenirs of the places with which they are associated. Photographs taken specially by Mr. Charles S. Olcott have been used for illustrations, so that the scenes are preserved in picture as well as in text. The stories thus gain a living interest both for those who have never seen their actual settings, and for those who, having seen them, may through these editions keep the impression of them always clear and vivid.

CAPE COD. By Henry D. Thoreau. Illustrated. 12mo, $1.00 net.

UNCLE REMUS AND HIS FRIENDS. By Joel Chandler Harris. Illustrated. 12mo, $1.25 net.

THE STORY OF A BAD BOY. By Thomas Bailey Aldrich. Illustrated. 12mo, $1.25 net.

THE HOUSE OF THE SEVEN GABLES. By Nathaniel Hawthorne. Illustrated. 12mo, $1.00 net.

TALES OF A WAYSIDE INN. By Henry W. Longfellow. Illustrated. 12mo, $1.00 net.

THE LIFE OF EDWARD ROWLAND SILL

By William Belmont Parker

Notwithstanding the fact that Sill is one of the most popular of American poets and holds a secure place as one of the most distinguished and significant of them, this is the first biography of him to appear, and will be eagerly welcomed by his large circle of admirers, to whom his life and personality have been too little known. Mr. Parker, the authorized biographer, has had the assistance of Mrs. Sill and of a large circle of Sill's friends and contemporaries, and has been fortunate in receiving so large a body of Sill's letters as to make it possible for him to tell the story of the poet's life very largely in Sill's own words.

The poet's life, though not a strenuously eventful one, was, nevertheless, one of decided interest, with the background changing from New England to California, and back again to the Middle States. The letters also tell an interesting story of poetic and intellectual development through the final decades of the nineteenth century, and present a very vital and engaging personality.

Illustrated. Crown 8vo, $1.75 net. (February.)

RALPH WALDO EMERSON

By Oscar W. Firkins

There have been many lives of Emerson. The particular raison d'être of the present brilliant book is the publication in ten volumes of Emerson's Journals, putting in print a vast body of biographic and critical material not hitherto accessible to the general biographer.

Professor Firkins re-tells the story of Emerson's characteristic life, and by free use of the journals has given to it fresh vividness and individuality. He also, with sound critical insight, re-appraises Emerson's work and his significance to the present generation. He lays particular emphasis upon the fact that Emerson's day is not over, that he is rather the prophet of a new age yet to come, and immensely important and significant, therefore, to readers of the present day.

$1.75 net. (March.)

THE SECRET OF AN EMPRESS

By the Countess Zanardi Landi

This simple record promises to be one of the sensations of the publishing year. The Countess Landi is the child of the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria and the Empress Elizabeth. For both state and personal reasons, she was reared outside of the royal household, though continually visited by her mother, and generally known to be of imperial parentage. For reasons of state the Emperor now refuses her recognition. The Countess's picturesque and intimate account of her life, told in fluent English, throws an extraordinarily interesting flood of light on the present generation of the Hapsburg house in Austria.

Illustrated. $4.00 net. (March.)

Two remarkable criticisms published last year:

BALZAC

By Emile Faguet

"It was worth while waiting these many years for a Balzac to get it at last from a hand of so firm a grip." — HENRY JAMES, in "Notes on Novelists."

Crown 8vo, $2.00 net.

GUSTAVE FLAUBERT

By Emile Faguet

"Never can a critic have got closer to a subject of this order. . . . It abounds in contributive light." — HENRY JAMES, in "Notes on Novelists."

Crown 8vo, $2.00 net.

S. F. B. MORSE

LETTERS AND JOURNALS

By Edward L. Morse

"This full and apparently faithful biography from an admiring and affectionate son's hand contains much more of the man Morse than has here been even faintly indicated. Of course it will be accepted as the final and authoritative life of the inventor, as it is also one of the most notable biographies of the year. As announced on the title-page, it is fully and most interestingly illustrated." — The Dial.

2 vols. Illustrated. 8vo, $7.50 net.

RUTHERFORD B. HAYES

NINETEENTH PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

By Charles Richard Williams

"Mr. Williams accomplishes a labor of love in establishing the character of his subject, and adds to political literature of the reconstruction period a sound study. It tells more about Hayes's administration than any work known to the reviewer." — Boston Herald.

"The work is thorough and comprehensive, wrought with judgment and sympathy, and illuminated by a style that sets this biography apart as a book unusually distinguished in its class." — Indianapolis News.

2 vols. Illustrated. 8vo, $7.50 net.

THE LIFE OF THOMAS B. REED

By Samuel W. McCall

"The best thing to say about it is that everyone should read it. It gives a complete picture of the man and compels the reader to feel a sense of personal acquaintance and friendship with him. . . . The running story of parties and politics and measures during Mr. Reed's public life is admirably but succinctly told." — Boston Transcript.

Illustrated. Octavo, $3.00 net.

A FAR JOURNEY

By Abraham M. Rihbany

"A book to be grouped with those of Jacob A. Riis, Dr. Steiner, and Mary Antin." — The Continent.

"Written in a simple, fine English style, there is something of the Oriental flavor about it. It gives an insight not only into the soul of the immigrant, but also into the life of his people in Syria." — St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Illustrated. Crown 8vo, $1.75 net.

A BEACON FOR THE BLIND

By Winifred Holt

"An interesting biography of Henry Fawcett, blind English statesman and economist, deviser of parcels post and other practical reforms, — abounding in fresh anecdotes and felicitous illustrations, and invested with an unusual measure of spiritual suggestion and potential human appeal." — Philadelphia North American.

Illustrated. $2.50 net.

THE FALL OF MARY STUART

By Frank A. Mumby

This is the fourth book in Mr. Mumby's series of history in contemporary letters. Beginning with Mary's marriage to Darnley, her romantic and intriguing career is traced to the time of her forced abdication and immediately after, when she escaped from the rebelling forces which held her prisoner and made the fatal mistake of appealing to Elizabeth of England for protection. Letters written by participants and onlookers have been used with telling effect, and the book gives a lively picture of the most interesting years in the troubled and eventful life of Mary Stuart.

Large crown 8vo, $3.00 net.

KINGS AND QUEENS OF ENGLAND

Edited by Robert S. Rait, M.A., and William Page, F. S. A.

Introduction by James T. Shotwell.

These biographies of the lives of British sovereigns are prepared with special regard to the influence of each monarch on the social and political conditions of his time. The following titles are ready:

THE LIFE OF HENRY II. By L. F. SALZMANN.

THE LIFE OF HENRY VII. By D. M. GLADYS TEMPERLEY.

THE LIFE OF HENRY VI. By MRS. CHRISTIE.

THE LIFE OF HENRY V. By R. B. MOWAT.

Illustrated. Demi 8vo. Each $2.50 net.

HISTORIES OF GREAT FAMILIES

"Through the pages of the history of all old-established countries run the names of certain great families. They are not, of course, always in the front rank, and there are generations in which their representatives are entirely obscure or are remarkable solely for their follies or their vices. But again and again they have risen to the requirements of their position, and have given to the service of the State men of the highest ability and probity. . . . To read the records of the men who bore successively these great names is to see unfold from an individual point of view the entire history of the centuries in which they lived and to realize with unusual clearness how great national events and private fortunes reacted upon each other." — New York Times.

THE HOUSE OF CECIL. By G. RAVENSCROFT DENNIS.

THE SEYMOUR FAMILY. By A. AUDREY LOCKE.

THE CAVENDISH FAMILY. By FRANCIS BICKLEY.

THE LA TREMOILLE FAMILY. By WINIFRED STEPHENS.

Illustrated. Crown 8vo. Each $2.50 net.

CHINA UNDER THE EMPRESS DOWAGER

By J. O. P. Bland and Edmund Backhouse

This book, originally published in an expensive edition some years ago, was instantly recognized as the most important and most convincing contribution yet made to our knowledge of the Flowery Kingdom. Mr. Backhouse, for many years a resident of China, had access to a most important body of Chinese manuscripts which no other foreigner has had the privilege of seeing. Mr. Bland was for many years Chinese correspondent of the London Times.

"These authors have laid the world under obligations by writing the life of a woman of the East whose appetite for power was nearly equalled by her capacity for ruling." — The Nation.

Illustrated. $1.75 net.

PRACTICAL BANKING

By Ralph Scott Harris

The purpose of this treatise is two-fold: (1) to draw with accuracy of detail a plan of the structure of the modern bank in America; (2) to reduce all this to untechnical language and yet include sufficient exact financial information to enable the student of methods of banking substantially to grasp the subject. The author has had an unusually wide experience in practical banking, having filled every position from messenger boy to acting cashier. He has sought to introduce the reader to some of the officers and officials of the bank, acquaint him with their duties, and, in fine, describe the mechanism of the actual conduct of banking. There are also several chapters dealing with more general phases, such as "What is a Bank?" and the chapters on the "Clearing House," "National Bank Currency," "Foreign Exchange," and "The Federal Reserve Act."

$1.75 net. (January.)

SALESMANSHIP

By William Maxwell

"These articles contain more shrewd advice to the square inch than any other book of the kind with which we are familiar." — San Francisco Argonaut.

12mo, $1.00 net. (Published last September.)

THE NUTRITION OF A HOUSEHOLD

By Edwin Tenney Brewster and Lilian Brewster

This small but very sensible book voices no fads and alarmist theories of what one should not eat. The authors aim to make it a practical help for the housewife anxious at once to provide her family with the most agreeable and nutritious food, and to reduce the ever-present high cost of living. The book examines and tabulates the nutritious qualities of all the ordinary food stuffs in a clear and authoritative way. It is also so pleasantly written that one reads it with entertainment as well as with profit.

12mo, $1.25 net.

Hart, Schaffner and Marx Prize Essays in Economics

CONCILIATION AND ARBITRATION IN THE COAL INDUSTRY OF AMERICA

By Arthur E. Suffern

A presentation of the development of industrial relationship between employers and employees in the coal industry, from the time when the production of coal was insignificant up to the present, when coal stands as a basis of industrial prosperity.

Crown 8vo, $2.00 net. (February.)

WELFARE AS AN ECONOMIC QUANTITY

By G. P. Watkins

A serious contribution to scientific economics, critical of and supplementary to the doctrines of the so-called Austrian school, with important applications to the high cost of living and the concentration of wealth and income.

Crown 8vo, $1.50 net. (February.)

THE CANADIAN IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY

By W. J. A. Donald

A study in the economic history of a protected industry. The controversial problem receives impartial and scientific treatment, and the book contributes to the understanding of the general economic history of Canada and to the solution of a bitter controversy.

PRESCRIPTIONS

SELECTIONS FROM DR. RICHARD CABOT'S "WHAT MEN LIVE BY"

Compiled by Edith Motter Lamb

"Not a set of rigid rules of conduct but inspirations to happy and efficient life." — Dr. Samuel M. Crothers's comment on "What Men Live By."

"Prescriptions" contains in convenient and inexpensive form some of the most pungent and helpful thoughts from "What Men Live By." The selection has been made with the advice of Dr. Cabot.

16mo, 50 cents net.

The books given below were published last year

ON THE COSMIC RELATIONS

By Henry Holt

"The jolts which Lodge, Crookes, and Bergson have given to the scientific brotherhood are as nothing compared with the shock now administered by another prominent advocate of the antiquated soul theory, the veteran publisher and philosopher, Henry Holt, who, after meditating for a lifetime on the riddle of the universe, has voiced his conclusions in one of the most astonishing books that has appeared in years. . . . I have found it singularly stimulating." — Boston Transcript.

2 vols. Crown 8vo, $5.00 net.

WHAT IS IT TO BE EDUCATED?

By C. Hanford Henderson

"Amidst the waste of formal pedagogical literature, it is refreshing to find a document so human and genial. . . . His book bears the mark of a wide experience both in and out of school, which he seems to have kept fresh and vivid, with the result that there is hardly a page which is not good reading." — The Nation.

Crown 8vo, $1.50 net.

IS CONSCIENCE AN EMOTION?

[Raymond F. West Memorial Lectures]

By Hastings Rashdall

"An interesting contribution to current ethical discussion. . . . Leland Stanford Junior University is to be congratulated on having secured this able English scholar for its course of memorial lectures, and the thoughtful public will be glad of this book." — Springfield Republican.

12mo, $1.00 net.

WHAT MEN LIVE BY

By Dr. Richard Clarke Cabot

"If anyone wants good advice or good stimulus to fair thinking on vital subjects, he will find it here. . . . It is as a contribution to the values of life that this readable volume deserves a popular career. It is sound doctrine for the body, good wholesome sense for the mind, a balanced and not a specious optimism for the soul." — The Dial.

Crown 8vo, $1.50 net.

A CENTURY'S CHANGE IN RELIGION

By George Harris

"Few, if any, are the teachers to whom we can listen with greater pleasure and confidence than to Dr. Harris." — Hartford Courant.

"Rich in quotable verbal felicities and instinct with abiding faith and reverence for the deep things of God, this book is a clarion call to profounder faith and a clearer consciousness of God's abiding presence with us." — Christian Intelligencer.

$1.25 net.

RELIGIOUS CONFESSIONS AND CONFESSANTS

By Anna Robeson Burr

"This is a book of pivotal importance. . . . No notice can give an idea of the gentleness with which Mrs. Burr probes the most sensitive prejudices and convictions known to men: hers is the gentleness of the surgeon which does not suggest irresolution. She states rather than argues. From her own study of confessions and of the cumulative data of anthropology and psychology, she has made a great synthesis. The implications of her study have the widest possible bearing, and they will sink, slowly, it may be, but with transforming permeation, into the religious heart of the age." — The Nation.

Large crown 8vo, $2.50 net.

THE PLACE OF THE CHURCH IN EVOLUTION

By John Mason Tyler

"From the steady progress of the past the author deduces the expectation of progress in the future. He finds the prevailing depression in religious matters as groundless as periods of business depression often have been." — The Living Age.

"It makes for rational optimism." — Congregationalist and Christian World.

12mo, $1.10 net.

Good Sermons Reprinted

Two books by William Burnet Wright

A well-known Presbyterian preacher and a lecturer on literature, history, and biography

ANCIENT CITIES

In a manner remarkably attractive Mr. Wright tells of the ancient cities of Mesopotamia, Egypt, and Judea; of the stupendous architecture of Nineveh, of Babylon, and of Karnah; of the splendors of Jerusalem. The story is wonderfully fascinating.

16mo, $1.10 net.

THE WORLD TO COME

A really good book of sermons, not theological but profoundly religious. They are varied, vigorous, thoughtful, and unsectarian. Some of the subjects are Praying; Peter's Keys; Saul's Self-Pity; Samson, — Self-Deception; and Saving Faith.

16mo, $1.10 net.

 PROBLEMS OF CONDUCT
An Introductory Survey of Ethics

By DURANT DRAKE, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Ethics and Philosophy of Religion, Wesleyan University, Middletown, Connecticut.

In the first third of this volume there is presented briefly and clearly all that it is important for students to know about the theory and history of morality. The remaining two thirds are devoted to concrete contemporary problems — matters touching deeply the life of the individual and questions of public morality.

$1.75. Postpaid.

 THE STUDY AND PRACTICE OF WRITING ENGLISH

By GERHARD R. LOMER, M.A., Ph.D., Instructor in the School of Journalism, Columbia University, and MARGARET ASHMUN, M.A., formerly Instructor in English in the University of Wisconsin.

This textbook provides, among other useful features, a thorough review of the necessary mechanical and grammatical aspects of composition, exercises on the study of words and the development of a vocabulary, and most comprehensive study outlines of the chief forms of writing and theme subjects. The authors have had unusual success in the teaching of English and the plan has been successfully used in their classes. Though primarily designed for use in college freshman courses, the book may be used to advantage in high schools.

$1.10. Postpaid.

 ACCOUNTS: THEIR CONSTRUCTION AND INTERPRETATION

By WILLIAM MORSE COLE, Associate Professor of Accounting, Harvard University. Revised and Enlarged Edition.

Since its publication in 1908 Cole's Accounts has steadily increased in favor as a textbook for college students and students in graduate schools. This new edition brings the book strictly down to date.

$2.25. Postpaid.

 VOCATIONAL ARITHMETIC

By H. D. VINCENT, A.M., Principal of School Three, and Supervising Principal in the Evening Schools, Troy, New York.

The compilation of this book is the result of a need for a text in arithmetic that will fit boys and girls in the eighth grade, who are finishing school, to meet practical concrete problems such as occur in daily life. It offers a series of living problems from the trades, professions, industries, and home and community life which will arouse and hold the pupil's interest and develop his judgment. The book is designed as a text for the last year of the grammar school or for night school, where the plan has been tried out with marked success.

55 cents. Postpaid.

 EVERYDAY ARITHMETICS. Books I, II, III

By FRANKLIN S. HOYT, Formerly Assistant Superintendent of the Indianapolis Public Schools, and HARRIET E. PEET, Instructor in Methods of Teaching Arithmetic, State Normal School, Salem, Mass.

These books are in accord with the views of the more progressive teachers of arithmetic throughout the country. Notable features of the texts are the grouping of problems under topics of direct appeal to the pupil and the adaptation of the work to the varying abilities of children. They go further than any other series of arithmetics in omitting topics and problems that are of little or no value. Special attention is given to developing accuracy and skill through the solution of problems dealing with the home, the school, the community, and national life.

Books I and II, 40 cents each. (Ready in February.)

THE DOERS

By WILLIAM JOHN HOPKINS. Illustrated. School Edition.

So admirably does this book meet the requirements of a supplementary reader for the second and third grades that a school edition has been prepared. The story of David, who watched the house being built, will awaken the vocational instincts of children and excite their interest in industrial workers.

(Ready in March.)

OPERA STORIES FROM WAGNER

By FLORENCE AKIN, Primary Teacher in the Irvington School, Portland, Oregon. Illustrated by E. POLLAK-ÖTTENDORFF.

Miss Akin here interprets for the child one of the world's literary masterpieces. In simple, conversational style she tells the four stories of Wagner's The Nibelung Ring, which weaves into one the strange and beautiful myths and legends of Northern Europe. The text is especially adapted to the development of expression and to dramatization. Careful consideration has been given to the selection of words that they may not require too much explanation and yet may afford reasonable growth for the child's vocabulary. The book is planned for use in the second and third grades.

45 cents. (Ready in March.)

THE ESKIMO TWINS

By LUCY FITCH PERKINS. Fully Illustrated. Square 8vo. School Edition.

As a series of geographical readers the Twins Series is widely used. In this latest book is a vivid picture of home life in the far north. The story is so simply written that second grade classes can read it.

50 cents. Postpaid. (Ready in March.)

Riverside Literature Series

SELECTED LITERARY ESSAYS from James Russell Lowell. No. 236

Edited by WILL DAVID HOWE, Professor and Head of the Department of English, Indiana University, and NORMAN FOERSTER, Associate Professor of English in the University of North Carolina. Library Binding.

This volume collects in small compass the most interesting and representative of Lowell's critical essays. Of English authors, Chaucer, Milton, Dryden, Pope, Wordsworth, and Carlyle are represented, and of American, Emerson and Thoreau. By way of introduction the editors have provided an appreciative estimate of the nature and value of the work of each author.

60 cents. Postpaid.

HENRY ESMOND. No. 140. (Revised Edition.)

By WILLIAM MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.

For this new edition the following equipment has been prepared by Dr. John A. Lester, Instructor in English in The Hill School, Pottstown, Pennsylvania: an historical introduction, twenty-eight pages of notes, two maps, — the first showing London in the time of Henry Esmond, the second the campaigns of Henry Esmond, — and a glossary of five pages. The book has illustrations by George Du Maurier, Thackeray, and others.

75 cents. Postpaid.

For Parents, Teachers, and Students of Education

SENSE-PLAYS AND NUMBER-PLAYS

By F. ASHFORD.

Kindergartners and others interested in the training of small children will welcome this collection of little games especially designed to furnish the proper sort of sense-training and a right foundation for number work. The book is an exemplification of the Montessori spirit, but does not require the Montessori equipment. The materials used are common household articles, or children's natural treasures, all easily available.

65 cents. Postpaid.

SCHOOL CREDIT FOR HOME WORK

By L. R. ALDERMAN, Superintendent of Schools, Portland, Oregon. Formerly State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Oregon.

To bring about a closer affiliation between the school and the home, Mr. Alderman has devised a plan of giving school credit for various forms of work done at home. The results have been exceedingly gratifying. Not only are the school and home brought into closer relations, but the child is given a form of industrial training not equaled by any artificial training.

The first part of the book is an account of this plan and how it may be carried out. The second part is devoted to presenting various forms showing how the plan may be adapted to different communities.

$1.00. Postpaid. (Ready in March.)

TYPES OF TEACHING

By LIDA B. EARHART, Ph.D., Principal in the New York City Public Schools; formerly Instructor in Teachers College, Columbia University; Principal of Grammar School and Assistant Principal of the State Training School, Duluth, Minnesota. With an Introduction by HENRY SUZZALLO, Ph.D.

Dr. Earhart's unusually rich experience in teaching, as well as her deep study of this subject, exceptionally qualify her to define the types of teaching which accomplish the aims of education. This book is written for teachers in service and for those preparing to teach. Throughout the text illustrations drawn from actual classroom experience have been employed to make the points clear and to furnish suggestions for further work.

$1.25. Postpaid. (In preparation.)

Riverside Educational Monographs

THE TEACHING OF HANDWRITING

By FRANK N. FREEMAN, Assistant Professor of Educational Psychology, School of Education, University of Chicago.

In simple, untechnical terms Professor Freeman discusses the psychology of handwriting, and the pedagogical and hygienic problems involved in the teaching of this subject. Throughout the text facsimiles and diagrams illustrate various important features of the argument.

60 cents. Postpaid.

TRADES AND PROFESSIONS

By GEORGE H. PALMER, Professor Emeritus of Philosophy, Harvard University.

The constant endeavor of the man in trade is to bring his business to its largest efficiency and growth. In this monograph Professor Palmer urges a like attitude on the part of teachers toward their profession. The characteristics of the teacher who recognizes the obligations of his profession, both in his own purposes and ambitions and in his relations to other members of the profession and to those who depend upon his skill as a teacher, are clearly brought out.

35 cents postpaid.

Riverside Educational Monographs

THE TEACHING OF CIVICS

By MABEL HILL, Instructor in History and Civics, Post-Graduate Department, Dana Hall School, Wellesley, Mass.

The subject of civics requires a method of teaching which will do more than simply lead to the acquisition of information about the facts of government. From the beginning to the end of teaching, the chief aim should be to get the child to perform his part in civic life. This monograph presents not only the problem and its solution, but a series of twenty-four suggestive lessons in application of this principle.

60 cents. Postpaid.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Its Theory, Administration and Practice

By DAVID SNEDDEN, Commissioner of Education for Massachusetts, RUTH MARY WEEKS, and ELLWOOD P. CUBBERLEY, Professor of Education in Leland Stanford Junior University.

To meet the widespread demand for a helpful book on Vocational Education, three volumes from the Riverside Educational Monographs treating of different phases of this subject have here been brought together: Snedden's The Problem of Vocational Education, Weeks's The People's School, and Cubberley's The Improvement of Rural Schools. This is a practical and suggestive volume for all interested in bringing about a richer and more useful educational equipment for the American boy and girl on reaching the age of self-direction and self-support.

$1.20. Postpaid.

Riverside Textbooks in Education

TEACHING LITERATURE IN THE GRAMMAR GRADES AND HIGH SCHOOL

By EMMA M. BOLENIUS, Formerly Instructor in English, Central Commercial and Manual Training High School, Newark, New Jersey.

To put within the reach of the high school or grade teacher a method of presenting literature that will ensure to the pupil a knowledge of the variety and beauty of its forms, and a larger comprehension of the subject as a whole, is the purpose of this text. In a series of lessons the author discusses masterpieces illustrating the various types of English literature, giving in each case a detailed method of teaching this particular form. In this concrete way the type is interpreted to the pupil, awakening his appreciation and interest. Detailed assistance is given for teaching twenty classics commonly read in the grammar grades and in the high school.

(In preparation.)

DISCIPLINE AS A SCHOOL PROBLEM

By A. C. PERRY, JR., Ph.D., District Superintendent, Department of Education, New York City.

This book gives an excellent basis for the personal training which every teacher finds necessary in order to develop and maintain a school-room organization that will make the most helpful atmosphere in which to develop character in pupils. Books on the subject of school discipline that have been available have been too much concerned with little devices and "tricks of the trade" and not enough interested in giving the teacher a rational basis for making her own daily decisions, which in the aggregate determine the kind of discipline she will have in her school. This new book will be found of the utmost service to all inexperienced teachers, and most suggestive and helpful even to those who have been longer in the work.

(In preparation.)

EACH year the New York State Library selects 250 of the best books published during the preceding year, and recommends them to the libraries of the State. Their list for 1913, which is the latest to be made public, contains 43 books published by Houghton Mifflin Company, more than 17 per cent of the total number.

The selection is made with such care that it forms the best possible basis from which to choose books for smaller libraries or for individual use. We suggest that you keep the following list for reference in planning your own library.

- | | |
|--|-------------------|
| Psychology and Industrial Efficiency | Münsterberg |
| The Value of Organized Speculation | Brace |
| The Truth About the Railroads | Elliott |
| Vocations for Girls | Laselle and Wiley |
| Young Working Girls | Woods and Kennedy |
| The Diary of a Free Kindergarten | Hardy |
| New Ideals in Rural Schools | Betts |
| The Summit of the Years | Burroughs |
| In Beaver World | Mills |
| The Publisher | Yard |
| Common Diseases | Hutchinson |
| The Greatest Books in the World | Portor |
| Youth and Life | Bourne |
| Irish Plays and Playwrights | Weygandt |
| The Wolf of Gubbio | Peabody |
| Old Homes of New Americans | Clark |
| A Wayfarer in China | Kendall |
| The Carolina Mountains | Morley |
| California Coast Trails | Chase |
| Field Days in California | Torrey |
| The Fall of the Dutch Republic | Van Loon |
| With the Victorious Bulgarians | Wagner |
| Naval History of the American Revolution | Allen |
| A Confederate Girl's Diary | Dawson |
| Life of John Bright | Trevelyan |
| Memoirs of Li Hung Chang | Mannix |
| Some Letters of William Vaughn Moody | Mason |
| The Story of My Boyhood and Youth | Muir |
| Letters of Charles Eliot Norton | Norton and Howe |
| The Invaders | Allen |
| O Pioneers! | Cather |
| V. V.'s Eyes | Harrison |
| Happy-Go-Lucky | Hay |
| Otherwise Phyllis | Nicholson |
| The Burden of a Woman | Pryce |
| The Story of Waitstill Baxter | Wiggin |
| Story-Telling Poems | Olcott |
| The Irish Twins | Perkins |
| The Quest of the Fish-Dog Skin | Schultz |
| Sinopah, the Indian Boy | Schultz |
| The Boy Editor | Kirkland |
| Ivanhoe, Boyd Smith Edn. | Scott |
| The Railroad Book | Smith |

INDEX

Books published this year

Angela's Business [$1.35].....	1	Japanese Lyrics [75 cents].....	10
Are We Ready? [$1.50].....	6	Katy Gaumer [$1.35].....	4
Audacious War, This.....	5	Kitchener: Organizer of Victory [$1.25].....	7
Belgian Spirit, The.....	5	Land of Delight, The [$1.00].....	13
Breath of Life, The [$1.50] [$1.15].....	12	Law and Usage of War, The [$1.50].....	7
Buddhist Art in its Relation to Buddhist Doctrine.....	14	Little Bird Blue [75 cents].....	13
California Padres and their Missions [$2.50].....	11	Mr. Chamberlain's Speeches [$5.00].....	8
Canadian Iron and Steel Industry.....	22	Nutrition of a Household, The [$1.25].....	22
Chief Contemporary Dramatists, The.....	15	Paradise Found.....	16
Conciliation and Arbitration in the Coal Industry [$2.00].....	22	Practical Banking [$1.75].....	22
Criticisms of Life [$1.50].....	9	Prescriptions [50 cents].....	23
Diplomacy of the War of 1914.....	6	Reluctant Adam, A [$1.35].....	2
Divine Mystery, The.....	9	Representative Phi Beta Kappa Addresses [$3.00].....	16
Doodles [$1.00].....	4	Riverside History of the United States [$1.75 each].....	8
Early Church, The [$1.75].....	9	Road to Peace, The.....	5
Emerson, Life of [$1.75].....	19	Rocky Mountain Wonderland, The [$1.75].....	12
Fall of Mary Stuart, The [$3.00].....	21	Secret of an Empress, The [$4.00].....	19
Great Families Series [$2.50 each].....	21	Sill, Life of Edward Rowland [$1.75].....	19
Greatest of Literary Problems, The [$5.00].....	15	Six Weeks in the Trenches.....	5
Henry V, The Life of [$2.50].....	21	Some Imagiste Poets [75 cents].....	10
Henry VI, The Life of [$2.50].....	21	Technique of the Drama, The [$2.00].....	15
Higher Individualism, The [$1.10].....	9	War Poems [50 cents].....	22
Intervention and Colonization in Africa [$2.00].....	8	Welfare as an Economic Quantity [$1.50].....	22
Irradiations (Poems) [75 cents].....	10	What sha' 've read to the Children? [$1.00].....	13
		Winnowing Fan, The (Poems) [50 cents].....	10

New Editions

Children's Book of Birds.....	13	Stories and Poems of Bret Harte [$1.50].....	2
Elements of Military Hygiene, The [$1.50].....	7	Whole Year Round, The [$2.00].....	13
Handbook of Universal History [$3.00].....	8

Other Books of Present Importance

Ancient Cities [$1.10].....	24	Morse, Letters and Journals of S. F. B. [$7.50]... ..	20
Architecture of Humanism, The [$2.00].....	14	My First Summer in the Sierra [$2.50].....	11
Art of Spiritual Harmony, The [$1.75].....	14	Nightingale, The [$1.25].....	2
Balzac [$2.00].....	19	On the Cosmic Relations [$5.00].....	23
Beacon for the Blind, A [$2.50].....	20	Our National Parks [$1.75] [$3.00].....	11
Boston Symphony Orchestra, The [$2.00] [$10.00].....	15	Pan-Germanism [$1.75].....	7
Byways in Bookland [$1.25].....	16	Place of the Church in Evolution, The [$1.10].....	24
California Coast Trails [$2.00].....	11	Poet, The [$1.30].....	3
Century's Change in Religion, A [$1.2].....	24	Prints [$2.00].....	14
China under the Empress Dowager [$1.75].....	21	Reed, Life of Thomas B. [$3.00].....	20
Clarion, The [$1.35].....	4	Religious Confessions and Confessants [$2.50].....	24
Fantastics [$5.00].....	17	Right Track, The [$1.25].....	3
Far Journey, A [$1.75].....	20	Riverside Pocket Editions.....	18
Field Days in California [$1.50].....	12	Salesmanship [$1.00].....	22
Flaubert, Gustave [$2.00].....	19	Shifting Sands [$1.35].....	3
Flock, The [$2.00].....	11	Spell of the Rockies [$1.75].....	12
French Revolution in San Domingo, The [$2.00].....	8	Stiegel Glass [$1.00].....	17
Grand Tour in the Eighteenth Century, The [$4.00] [$10.00].....	17	Story of My Boyhood and Youth, The [$2.00].....	11
Hans Breitmann's Ballads [$7.50].....	17	Story of a Thousand Year Pine, The [75 cents]... ..	12
Hayes, Rutherford B. [$7.50].....	20	Street of Seven Stars, The [$1.25].....	2
Her Wings [$1.25].....	3	Thirty Years [$3.50].....	7
History of Prussia [4 vols. $8.25].....	8	Visitors' Editions.....	18
Impressions and Comments [$1.50].....	16	Walking [$2.50].....	17
Is Conscience an Emotion? [$1.00].....	23	Walloon Family in America, A [$5.00].....	17
Joyful Heart, The [$1.25].....	16	War's Aftermath [75 cents].....	7
Kings and Queens of England [$2.50 each].....	21	What is to be Educated? [$1.50].....	23
Knight on Wheels, A [$1.35].....	2	What Men Live By [$1.50].....	23
Land of Little Rain, The [$2.00].....	11	Where Rolls the Oregon [$1.25].....	12
Life of a Little College [$1.35].....	16	Wild Life in the Rockies [$1.75].....	12
Meditations on Votes for Women [$1.00].....	16	Witch, The [$1.40].....	4
Ministry of Art, The [$1.50].....	14	World to Come, The [$1.10].....	24
Mont St. Michel and Chartres [$6.00].....	14	Yosemite Trails [$2.00].....	11

Educational Books

Accounts: Their Construction and Interpretation [$2.25].....	25	Sense Plays and Number Plays [65 cents].....	27
Discipline as a School Problem.....	28	Study and Practice of Writing English, The [$1.10].....	25
Doers, The.....	26	Teaching of Civics [60 cents].....	28
Eskimo Twins, The [50 cents].....	26	Teaching of Handwriting [60 cents].....	27
Everyday Arithmetics.....	25	Teaching Literature in the Grammar Grades and High Schools.....	28
Henry Esmond [75 cents].....	26	Trades and Professions [35 cents].....	27
Opera Stories from Wagner [45 cents].....	26	Types of Teaching [$1.25].....	27
Problems of Conduct [$1.75].....	25	Vocational Arithmetic [55 cents].....	25
School Credit for Home Work [$1.00].....	27	Vocational Education [$1.20].....	28
Selected Literary Essays [60 cents].....	26

All prices are net.